

My Valentine's Day Shape Poem

A large heart shape with horizontal lines for writing a poem. The heart is divided into two sections by a vertical line. The top section has two lines on each side, and the bottom section has a single line across the width of the heart. The lines are evenly spaced and extend from the inner edge of the heart to the outer edge.